FIVE-POINTED STAR

LABBEASY

HOW TO DO IT

①

Cut out five squares measuring 4x4 inches (10x10 cm). Fold each square diagonally and unfold them again. Fold the left and right corners in towards the center line. Press down the edges.

②

Fold the kite shape in the middle so that the flaps are on the outside. Fold the tip down, open the flap beneath it and slide the tip underneath.

③

Open the star point from behind, pulling the tip you just folded down under the flap halfway up. Now fold this inwards and press down the edges! Fold four more star points in the same way.

④

Put glue on the small surfaces of each point and stick them together. When sticking together be sure that the tips meet and the reverse side looks nice and neat.

1

Draw a triangle measuring 5x10 inches (12x24 cm). A center line is useful when you do this. Starting at the bottom, draw four horizontal lines at a distance of 1/2 inch (1.5 cm).

2

Cut out the triangle. Fold it like an accordion in 1/2 inch (1.5 cm) strips all the way to the tip. Make a hole with a bradawl.

3

Tie a bead onto the end of a piece of cotton. Thread the string through all the holes using a needle. Makes a pretty tree or gift decoration.
